

Meet the GCC Library

The library website: lib.gccaz.edu/lmc

This site serves as your guide to the library's collection, both physical and electronic. Here you'll find the library's hours, news, calendar of events, policies, custom research guides, citation help, and a link to the Ask a Librarian 24/7 chat service. You also can request and renew items and check your library account.

The library catalog connects you to books, ebooks, DVDs, streaming videos, CDs, and more.

Find the perfect resource from our collection of 480,000 books and ebooks, 370+ million articles, and 68,000 videos. Enjoy reading for pleasure? Don't miss the Leisure Reading collection!

Library databases

135+ databases offer articles from magazines, scholarly and trade journals, books, and newspapers as well as streaming videos. Enter your MEID to use these at home.

Our staff

Need help? Ask us! Our friendly librarians are experts who have graduate degrees in library and information science. They are happy to assist you with research. Check out items from the staff at the circulation desks located next to each exit. The tech helper in the computer area can answer "how do I?" and "why isn't this working?" questions.

Inside the building

In addition to the collection, you'll find lots of computers, b/w and color printers, two copiers, and two free scanners. Connect to free wifi on GauchoNet. Meet your study group in one of our 12 study rooms. Working alone? Savor the peace of the Quiet Study room. Textbooks, laptops, headphones, and whiteboard markers can be checked out for in-library use. Send a local fax. Take a break and enjoy the library's large, diverse collection of fine art displayed throughout the building.
